The one-day national seminar on “A New Dawn for Indian Criminal Justice: An in-depth Analysis of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita” was held on 07th September, 2024 at the Library Hall of the Kamkus College of Law, Ghaziabad. The seminar aimed to explore the intricacies of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS), a significant shift in India’s legal framework. The seminar brought together legal experts, academics, and practitioners to critically analyze the new Code, its implications for justice delivery, and its role in shaping a more equitable society.

Welcome Address:

The seminar began with a warm welcome address by the organizing committee, highlighting the significance of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS) and its potential to transform India’s criminal justice system.

Inaugural Session:

The seminar commenced with an auspicious inaugural session, which included the traditional lighting of the lamp and a Saraswati Vandana to invoke the blessings of the goddess of knowledge and wisdom. The guests were warmly welcomed with bouquets, expressing gratitude and appreciation for their presence and contributions to the seminar.

The esteemed speakers were on the dais, ready to share their insights and expertise on the

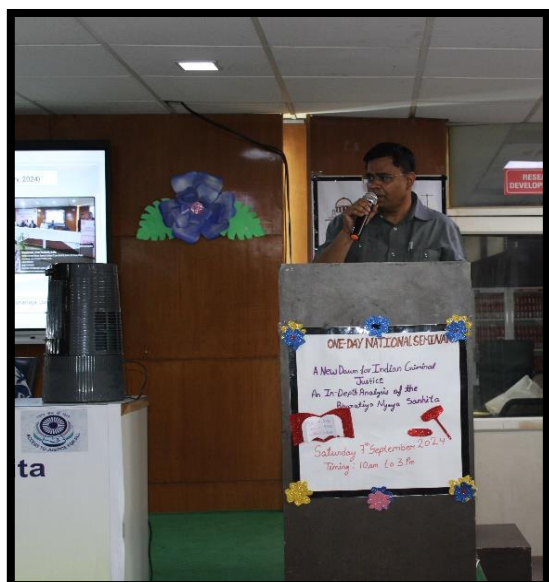

Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita. They included: Mr. Balraj Singh Malik, Advocate, Supreme Court of India, New Delhi, Dr. Sunil Kumar Agarwal, Advocate, Supreme Court of India, New Delhi, and Dr. Surendra Pathak, Professor, L. J. University, Ahmedabad, Gujarat

The Seminar commenced with a welcome address by the students of the college from different semesters of BA.LL.B., B.Com. LL.B. and LL.B., who highlighted in their speech the significance of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS) in transforming India's criminal justice system. They emphasized the need for reforms to address contemporary challenges and promote a more equitable society.

The students' presentations set the stage for the day's discussions, underscoring the importance of the new Code in enhancing procedural efficiency, protecting victims' rights, and integrating modern principles of justice.

First Technical Session:

The first technical session of the seminar was initiated by Dr. Sunil Kumar Agarwal, Advocate, Supreme Court of India, New Delhi. Dr. Agarwal delivered an insightful presentation on the topic "Human Rights and Justice: Ensuring Fairness in the New Legal Framework." In his address, Dr. Agarwal explored the human rights dimensions of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS), emphasizing the protection of individual rights, fair trials, and preventing abuse.

Dr. Agarwal's session set a strong foundation for the seminar, encouraging participants to critically engage with the new legal framework and its implications for human rights and justice in India.

Second Technical Session:

The second technical session was initiated by Mr. Balraj Singh Malik, Advocate, Supreme Court of India, New Delhi. Mr. Malik delivered an insightful speech on “Reform and Modernization: Evaluating the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita’s Impact.” He provided a detailed analysis of the significant reforms introduced by the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS) and discussed their anticipated effects on law enforcement, the judiciary, and citizens. His address highlighted the transformative potential of the BNS in modernizing India’s criminal justice system.

Third Technical Session:

The third technical session was initiated by Dr. Surendra Pathak, Professor at L. J. University, Ahmedabad, Gujarat. Dr. Pathak discussed “Law and Justice: Philosophical Framework.” He delved into the philosophical underpinnings of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS), exploring how the new code aligns with broader principles of law and justice. His presentation emphasized the importance of a philosophical approach in understanding and implementing legal reforms, and how these principles can help shape a more just and equitable society.

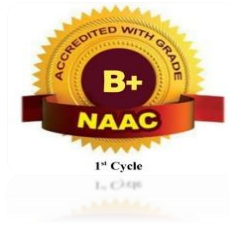

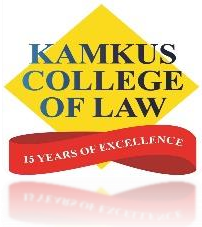

Certificate Distribution

At the end of the seminar, certificates were distributed to all the present students, acknowledging their participation and engagement in the event. This gesture not only recognized their involvement but also encouraged them to continue their pursuit of knowledge and active participation in legal reforms.

The seminar concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks delivered by Dr. Seema Singh, HoD, KCL. Dr. Singh expressed her gratitude to all the esteemed speakers, participants, and organizers for their invaluable contributions to the seminar. She highlighted the importance of the discussions and insights shared throughout the day, emphasizing how they will contribute to the ongoing efforts to reform and improve India's criminal justice system.

Impact Analysis:

The seminar provided a platform for legal experts and practitioners to gain a deeper understanding of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS). The discussions on reforms, human rights, and procedural changes enriched their knowledge and equipped them with insights to better navigate the new legal framework. For academics and students, the seminar served as an educational experience, offering them exposure to contemporary legal reforms and the practical implications of the BNS. This knowledge is crucial for their academic growth and future careers in law. The seminar facilitated interactive sessions where participants could engage in critical dialogue with the guest speakers. This exchange of ideas fostered a collaborative environment, encouraging participants to think critically about the challenges and opportunities presented by the BNS. The seminar encouraged active participation from attendees, making them feel involved in the process of legal reform. This engagement is vital for building a more inclusive and participatory legal system.

Overall, the seminar was successful in achieving its objectives, providing a comprehensive understanding of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, and fostering a platform for meaningful discussions and collaborations. The impact of the seminar is expected to resonate in the legal community and beyond, contributing to the ongoing efforts to create a more just and equitable society.
